The Diaper Pin Kid

Befriending The Buffalo

I.

I am the Diaper Pin Kid,
I have done what I did,
Cleaned up the Old West,
Now it is the best,
I shot off it's lid!

II.

My friend the Indian Chief,
Told me his tale of grief,
The hunters on the Plain,
In deep snow or rain,
Made the life of the Buffalo brief

III

It isn't fair what they do,
So we all appeal to you,
Out where the Buffalo roam,
Is where they are at home,
Under the sky so clear and blue.

IV

So the Indian Chief and I rode together,
Even though it looked like bad weather,
Mounted on my rocking horse,
I'd show them who was boss,
But be not the first to slap leather

V.

The villain was old Man Dan Miguire,
Who could get Buffalo skinnors for hire,
They could shoot all day long,
Never a bullet went wrong,
And those men would never tire!

VI.

They were ten against us two,
But they didn't know what I could do,
I asked them to desist,
But they wanted to persist,
In making the Buffalo herds a few.

VII.

So we two rode to a place far away,
Took us more than a half a day,
The mountain Lions' camp,
Where the ground was damp,
A place no Buffalo hunter could stay.

VIII.

I help save the Buffalo-I pleaded,
And my call the Lions all heeded,
We will go after Dan Miguire,
We know he is a big liar,
You will get all the help needed.

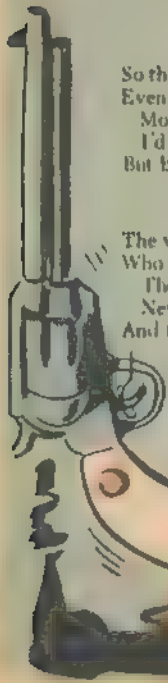

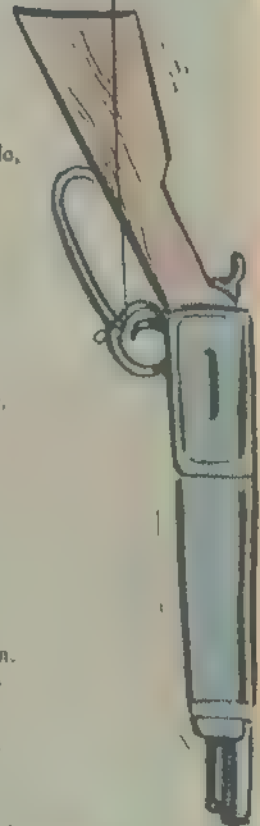

IX

The Buffalo are now safe on the Plain.
The idea was born in my little brain,
Let the Hunters be Hunted,
From place to place shunted,
Crying for mercy in the pouring rain.

X.

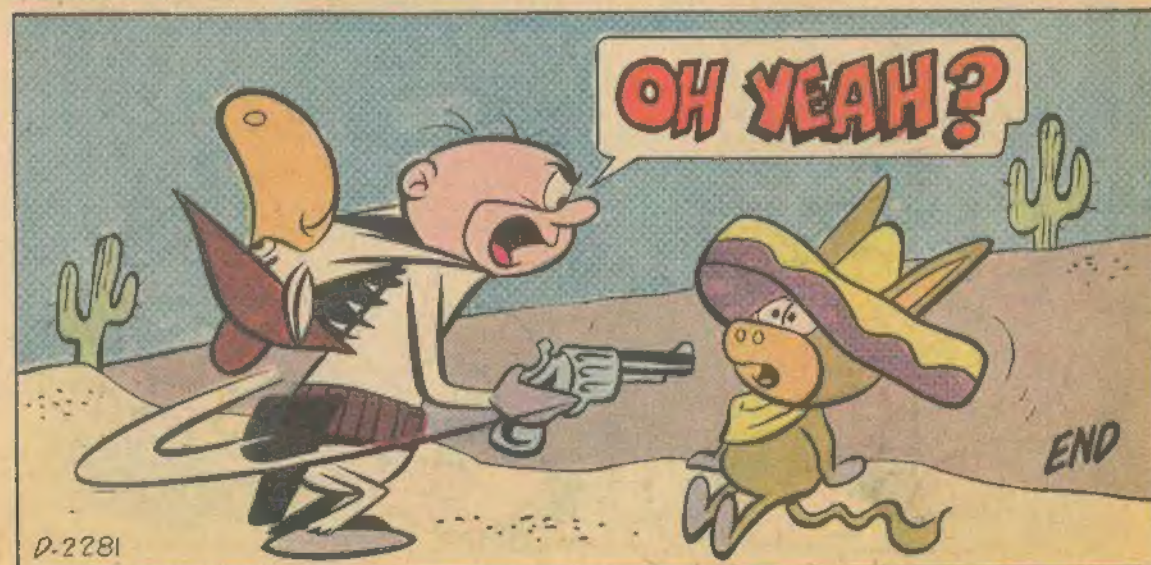

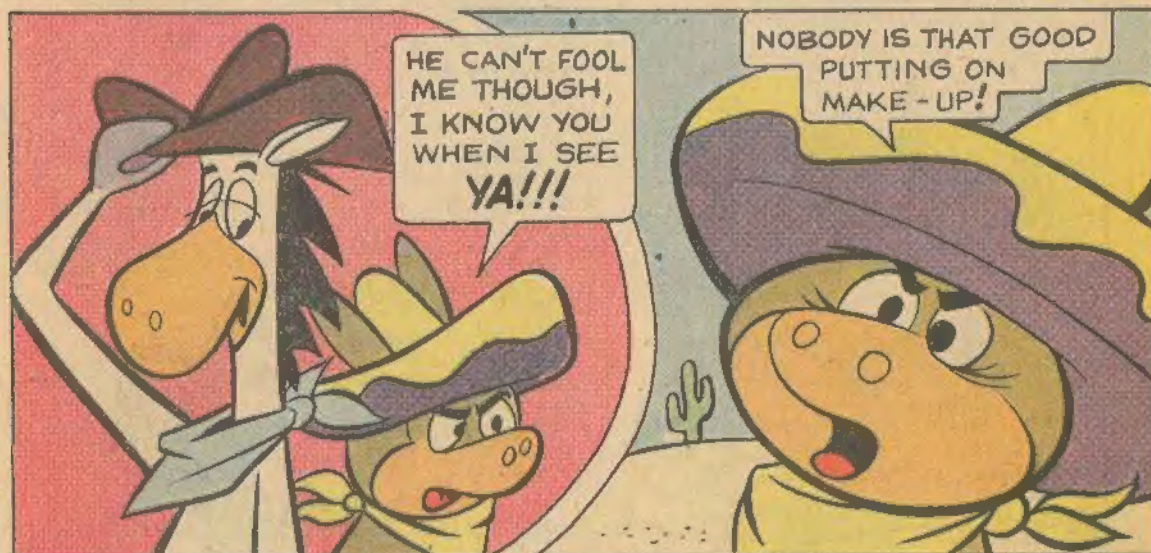

Finally Dan Miguire offered me a deal,
Which was smart and had good appeal,
If I sent the Lions home,
He would let the Buffalo roam,
For he had learned a lesson that was real
